PREDICTS CHURCH NAME WILL NOT BE CHANGED

WASHINGTON, May 18.—That the general convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church in October will vote down the plan to change the church's name, if the question is brought to a vote, was predicted today by Rev. Dr. Randolph H. McKim, rector of the church of the Epiphany, in commenting on the outcome of the convention of the diocese of Washington Wednesday and Thursday. Rev. Dr. McKim was the only clergyman elected as a deputy to the general convention on the first ballot.

Record of the Diocese.
 "The convention went on record distinctly against any such proposal," said Dr. McKim. "On the first ballot for deputies to the general convention, four laymen were elected who had risen in the convention and declared themselves unalterably opposed to any change in our name."

"Another indication of the mind of the convention is the passage of a preamble and resolution offered by myself to memorialize the general convention to adopt the system of proportionate representation in the house of clerical and lay deputies, the object of which is to remedy the present glaring defect of our system whereby some fundamental, important measure, such as the proposal to change the name of the church, might be adopted by a constitutional majority which nevertheless represented really a small minority of the clergy and communicants of the church. The preamble and resolution were adopted. The opponents of my resolution lined up as a rule with those favoring the change of name."

"A great change has been in progress in the church during the last twelve months on this subject. The campaign of education which we, on our part, have waged has been producing its fruit."

Notes Change in Sentiment.
 "Dioceses which formerly stood in the column of advocates of the change have lately been transferring themselves to the column of opposition. Louisiana is an example of this. Our own diocese, which a year ago would almost certainly have gone for the change is another example; but the most notable is that of Pennsylvania. A year ago it was confidently believed that it would support the change of name, but a few days ago its convention adopted a resolution against it by an overwhelming majority, 130 against 17, in favor of the change, 27 in its favor."

"I believe the mind of the church is waking up to the serious evil of this proposal, and that, if it comes to a vote in the general convention in October, it will be defeated by a decided majority."

TEXAS LOCATES GOVERNOR FEAR IN PORTO RICO

No one in Hawaii had ever supposed Governor Fear had been appointed Governor of Porto Rico with his headquarters at San Juan, the capital of Uncle Sam's big Atlantic island territory. The discovery was made yesterday that such was the case, or at least it was thought to be the case by the commission of agriculture of Austin, Texas.

Governor Fear yesterday received a large and legal looking envelope from Austin, Texas, addressed to the "Hon. Walter F. Fear, Governor of Porto Rico." The envelope was made yesterday that such was the case, or at least it was thought to be the case by the commission of agriculture of Austin, Texas.

The postal authorities at San Juan were apparently better posted as to who was Governor of Porto Rico and redirected the envelope to Honolulu, only after days being required to bring the wrongly addressed missile here from Porto Rico.

A Sacramento, paper has also made the discovery that Hawaii's Governor is named Walter, all of which goes to show that both Texas and California are much in doubt over the gubernatorial situation in Hawaii, even if Washington insists Governor Fear is the man on the job.

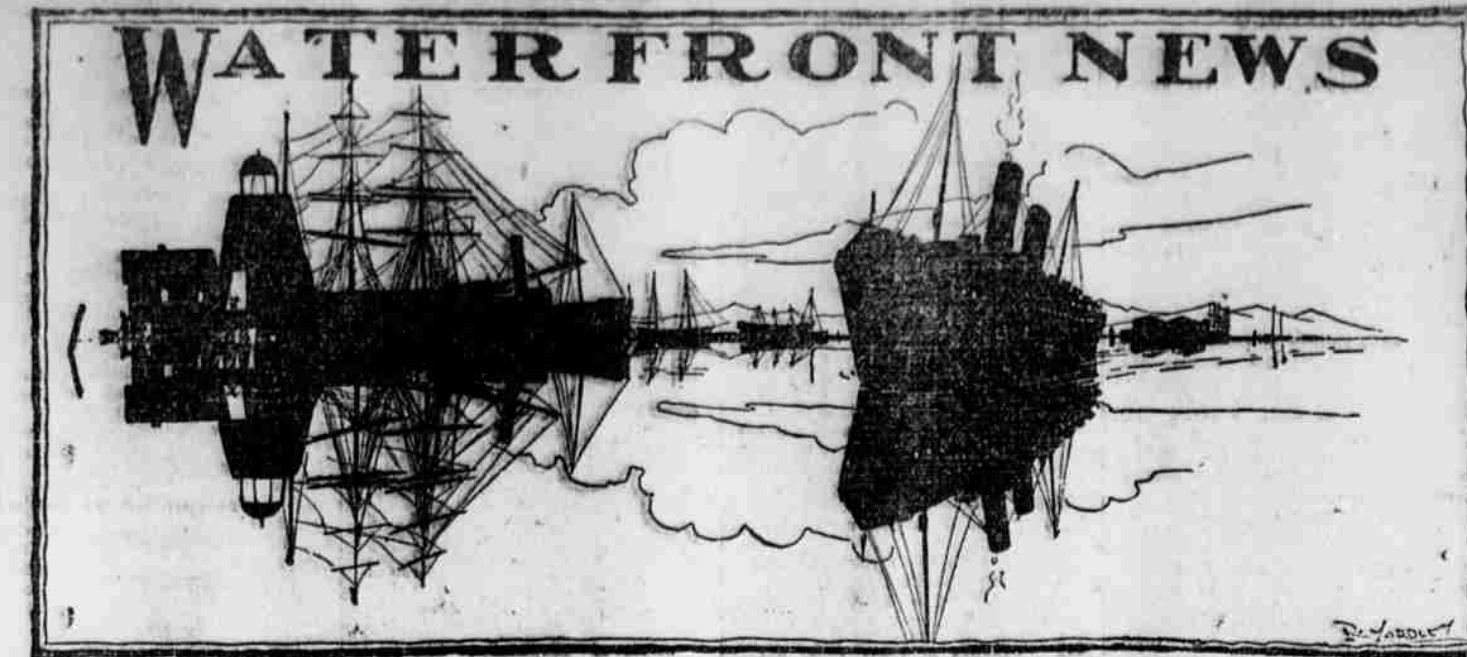

BISHOP LIKES ARMY LIFE

WELLINGTON, New Zealand, May 10.—Preaching in Christchurch cathedral Bishop Julius said that military training would be of enormous advantage to everybody, apart from its military value. The physical and moral benefits would be great; discipline, obedience, courtesy and comradeship would be inculcated and ultimately New Zealand's scheme, instead of encouraging strife and war, would make men resolute, strong and hard, and would raise the standard of manhood.

"The Dominion" says that the bishop is not unreasonably optimistic, and Great Britain would profit equally.

CAPTAINS HAVE LESS TIME ON THE COAST

New Pacific Mail and T. K. K. Schedule Shorter Stays for Vessels.

Capt. Ernest Bent, commander of the T. K. K. steamship Tenyo Maru, regrets the fact that the new joint sailing schedule arranged by the Pacific Mail and T. K. K. companies cuts down the stay of all trans-Pacific steamers at San Francisco and Hongkong. The Tenyo Maru arrived here from San Francisco yesterday morning and cleared for the Orient at five o'clock yesterday afternoon.

"I formerly had ten or eleven days in San Francisco," said Captain Bent yesterday, "and now it is cut down to six and seven days. Our time is also shortened at Hongkong. After sailing across the Pacific, one feels like taking a bit of time ashore."

The advance lists of the new schedule were received yesterday by Blackwell & Company, agents for the Pacific Mail, and Castle & Cooke, agents for the T. K. K. company. It shows that the Manchuria, for instance, leaves San Francisco, September 10, and the Chiyu Maru, September 11. The Manchuria will arrive at Hongkong October 11 and the Chiyu, October 8, three days ahead of its rival. The Chiyu is to sail from Hongkong October 18 and the Manchuria October 21.

When the China reaches San Francisco November 10, it will be held until November 22 before being despatched for Honolulu and the Orient, in order to permit the Chiyu to get in between the China and the Siberia.

Among early departures from San Francisco for Honolulu will be the Persia, May 24, arriving here May 31; the Korea sailing May 29 and leaving Honolulu for Yokohama June 4.

Tommy McCombe, Purser.

"Tommy" McCombe, one of the "old guard" among steamship men, who has been calling at the port of Honolulu for the past twenty years, arrived on the Tenyo Maru yesterday as purser, a pleasant surprise for all "Tommy's" friends in Honolulu. He succeeded Frank Cavayre, who has taken duty ashore. "Daddy" Hawes, for years identified with the steward's department of the Pacific Mail, is chief steward of the Tenyo Maru. He is making the round trip in place of Chief Wiley, who is taking a vacation.

The Tenyo brought 269 sacks of mail and a few lay-over passengers, among these being Cressy & Dayne, the theatrical people who are to play an engagement here. The through passenger list included sixty-eight first cabin, sixty-four second cabin and 121 Asiatic. Traffic Manager Becker of the T. K. K. line who is now in San Francisco, will arrive here on the Shinyo Maru's next trip. He may remain over in Honolulu for one steamer in order to look into a number of matters connected with his line.

Several large pieces of machinery were landed yesterday afternoon from the wharf to the steamer's deck. These are consigned to the San Carlos Sugar Mill, Philippines.

The steamer Claudine arrived yesterday morning from Maui ports with a varied assortment of island products. The vessel is on the berth for despatch this afternoon at five o'clock for Kahului and other Maui ports.

The steamer Lalikiki arrived from Kauai with sacks of sugar and four head of cattle.

The steamer Nihua will arrive tomorrow morning from Kauai with 6500 sacks of sugar.

The steamer W. G. Hall, which arrived Wednesday from Hawaii with 5000 sacks of sugar, left for Kauai last evening at five o'clock, taking lumber and fertilizer.

An Echo of the Sea.
 The divorced wife of Dr. Otis B. Spaulding, formerly surgeon of one of the Marine boats, and later surgeon of the Nippon Maru, figured in a sensational case in San Francisco last week when she caused the arrest of H. A. Heath, a publisher, aged twenty-seven years, son of a prominent real estate operator of Boston, on a charge of securing from her $400 in cash on a forged check. Mrs. Spaulding told the detectives in relating her experiences with Heath leading up to the forged check incident, that under promise of marriage she was induced to go with Heath to Portland and then to Boston and to part with $2000 in diamonds and $2000 in cash. She was obliged to telegraph to her aunt in San Francisco for funds to return to the Pacific Coast.

More Japanese Steamers.

In addition to the extensions planned by the Nippon Yusen Kaisha and the Toyo Kisen Kaisha in their trans-Pacific services, as already reported, it is announced that another large Japanese concern is preparing for further trade between the Orient and the Pacific Coast, says the San Francisco Chronicle of May 14.

Beginning with September first it is reported, Suzuki & Company will further enlarge their service by placing five steamers flying the Japanese flag on the regular route between Japan and the North Pacific. It is announced that the vessels will be the Nanki Maru, Shimei Maru, Fukoku Maru and two others recently purchased by the company.

Each of the steamers has cargo capacity of between 6000 and 8000 tons. Coming this way they will bring general cargo, returning to the Orient they will carry flour and wheat, loaded principally on the Columbia river. Suzuki & Company operate flour mills in Japan. The mills are located at Moji, and are the largest in the Orient, turning out about 3000 barrels of flour per day when running to capacity.

The wheat taken from this side of the Pacific will be used for keeping the plant in operation. In addition to the wheat the company will purchase flour to supply its oriental trade. Next to cotton the principal export from this and other North Pacific ports is flour, for which there is said to be an increasing demand in the Far East.

When Miss Isolina Davies, daughter of N. R. N. Davies, proprietor of the Grand Hotel at Yokohama, arrived at San Francisco on the steamship Persia, May 14, from Honolulu, all the baggage she had to concern herself with consisted of the clothes which she wore when she went ashore, and a ukulele and a camera.

It wasn't that the young woman didn't have any other baggage. It was only after she sailed from Honolulu that it was discovered her trunks were not aboard. While she was leaning at the rail watching Diamond Head fade from sight and strumming her ukulele, her trunks reposed on the wharf here.

While the transfer man was tearing up and down the wharf wondering what the young woman would say when she discovered her loss. But Miss Davies did not lose her temper. She strummed her ukulele just a bit more. Fellow passengers of the fair young woman came to her rescue with wearing apparel. A wireless message was sent to Honolulu and the transfer man sent the trunks on the following steamer. When she went down the gangway at San Francisco the customs men inquired for her baggage.

"You're looking at it," smiled the young woman while the inspectors gaped in astonishment.

More Steamers to Australia.

The Union Steamship Company which owns the Niagara, Makura, Marama and Zealandia on the Canadian-Australian run, intends placing two fast and modern liners on the San Francisco-Australian route. Charles Holdsworth, general manager of the company from San Francisco, arrived last week in San Francisco, the company's steamer Tahiti, stated that the route was established as an experiment. Since then the passenger and freight business increased rapidly and the two new vessels are to replace the old Arangi and Monna. The new vessels will make their appearance about September. It is believed that the Zealandia will be one of the new vessels. It has just been taken off the Honolulu-Australian run.

Another Steamer for Honolulu.
 Mr. Holdsworth is en route to England in connection with a new vessel which the company is building for its service between British Columbia and Australia, via Honolulu. This vessel will replace the Marama, leaving the Niagara, the Makura and the new steamer, for the British Columbia-Australia run.

Edward S. Wall Off.
 Sailing from Kahului harbor Wednesday, the big American ship Edward S. Wall, one of the largest sailing vessels flying the American flag, is now on its way to Delaware Breakwater, via Cape Horn, with 6000 tons of sugar.

The vessel went on a reef at the entrance to Kahului harbor a few weeks ago but was brought off by later-Island steamers. Inspection showed that the hull had not been damaged.

GENERAL ADVANCES CHEER WALL STREET

Bulls Had an Inning and Market Closed With Gains Recorded.

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)

NEW YORK, May 22.—(Special to The Advertiser)—Speculative sentiment improved today. Although further weakness was exhibited by a few minor railroads and industrial shares, the representative stocks, after an initial period of heaviness, ruled slightly higher. The fact that a good market existed for the New York City bonds at par or better was regarded as assuring.

Bonds were irregular. Brisk buying of individual stocks infused a better tone in the general market, but the demand for the recognized leaders was rather light. Brooklyn Transit and Consolidated Gas were decidedly strong and Canadian Pacific rallied considerably. The market gave a good exhibition of strength in the afternoon and became decidedly more active on the rise. All of the well-known stocks were bid up half a point or more. Reading, Lehigh Valley, Union Pacific and Southern Pacific were the strongest.

Low priced copper shares were bought heavily on dividend rumors and advances between one and two points were scattered pretty liberally all through the list.
